

Suspicious Activity Report (SAR) Glossary Codes and Reporting Routes

May 2021

United Kingdom Financial Intelligence Unit (UKFIU)

PLEASE NOTE:

This booklet replaces all previous glossary codes publications.

Overview

The purpose of this booklet is to provide guidance on the use of Suspicious Activity Report (SAR) glossary codes and reporting routes.

Key points

1. The use of glossary codes is considered good practice. They are crucial for enabling the UK Financial Intelligence Unit (UKFIU) and wider law enforcement to conduct analysis to identify money laundering trends, high risk cases for development and take immediate action where necessary. They also enable the production of feedback to reporters on trends and patterns identified in SARs.
2. The SARs regime is not a route to report crime or matters relating to immediate risks to others. The SARs regime is for reporting knowledge or suspicions of money laundering, or belief or suspicions relating to terrorist financing. As such, in addition to a SAR, you may have to report the matter via other routes to ensure the right information gets to the right organisation. Where you do report a crime alongside a SAR it will be good practice to include the crime reference and the organisation details in the SAR.
3. When submitting a SAR, the relevant glossary code should be included in the 'Reason for Suspicion' text space (see SAR examples pages 19-24).
4. It is acceptable to have a SAR with several codes (see example 6, page 24). If in doubt as to whether a particular code applies, always work on the basis that it is better to include one than not. It is also possible that a code does not match the set of circumstances faced by the reporter so in some cases it is acceptable that "no codes apply" be populated into the 'Reason for Suspicion' text space.

Contents of booklet

- Walkthrough checklist (step by step guide, pages 3-5)
- Detail on codes (definitions and context, pages 6-15)
- Alphabetical list (menu of key themes signposting where they are in this guidance, page 18)
- Examples (location for codes and good practice tips, pages 19-24)
- Aide memoire (annex overview of all the codes, page 25 – reporters may find it useful to have this summary available when inputting SARs)

Walk-through checklist

Step 1: Do the circumstances require immediate attention?

Priority is given to SARs indicating high risk victims of crime (such as children and vulnerable adults) and requests for a defence against money laundering (DAML) and terrorist financing.

- Do you require a defence under POCA¹ ('consent')? Use code XXS99XX and if submitting via SAR Online tick the 'consent' box. Also use the code XXGVTXX if the suspected money laundering is of a value of £3,000 or less (see page 6). For requests for a defence under TACT² submit under 'Terrorism' and tick the consent box (see example 1, page 19).
- Does the money laundering/terrorist financing relate to a vulnerable person at risk of immediate harm? Call the police on 999. To report a fraud, do so via Action Fraud [see page 10] or report other crime by ringing 101. Include code XXV2XX in any SAR relating to money laundering/terrorist financing concerning vulnerable people (see page 13 and example 3, page 21).
- Does the money laundering/terrorist financing relate to a child at immediate risk of harm, including sexual abuse and exploitation? Call the police on 999. If a non-emergency crime has occurred ring 101. Include code XXV3XX in any SAR relating to money laundering/terrorist financing concerning child exploitation. Additionally consider other reporting routes (see page 13 CEOP and example 2, page 20).
- Do you suspect modern slavery/human trafficking? If there is an immediate risk of harm call the police on 999. (See pages 16-17 and example 6, page 24).

Step 2: Other factors to consider

- Do the circumstances involve professionals or others in the financial sector who are providing a service which is potentially wittingly or unwittingly enabling money laundering? Use code XXPRFXX (see page 6 and example 5, page 23).
- Are there indicators of trade-based money laundering?³ Use code XXTBMLXX (see pages 7-8).
- Is the laundering connected with the purchase, sale or rental of real estate property (e.g. dwelling house, factory building or office premises)? Use code XXPROPXX (see page 8 and example 4, page 22).

³ Trade based money laundering has been defined by the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) as "the process of disguising the proceeds of crime and moving value through the use of trade transactions in an attempt to legitimise their illicit origins".

- Do your suspicions/knowledge relate to politically exposed person/s (PEPs)? For international PEPs use code XXD7XX; for UK domestic PEPs use code XXD8XX (see page 14).
- Does it relate to proceeds of bribery and corruption? Use code XXD9XX (see page 14).

Step 3: Does the laundering relate to specific predicate economic crime offences? (See page 12)

- Does the laundering relate to tax evasion offshore (code XXTEOSXX) or does it relate to UK-based tax evasion (code XXTEUKXX)?
- Does the laundering relate to tax evasion by a corporation/business or an individual? Use codes XXF3XX and XXF4XX respectively.
- Does the laundering relate to benefit fraud or excise evasion? Use codes XXF1XX and XXF2XX respectively.
- Does the laundering relate to VAT fraud? This could include carousel/missing trader intra-community (MTIC) fraud. Use code XXF5XX.
- Does the laundering relate to fraud against the private sector? Report to Action Fraud. Use code XXF9XX in any SAR relating to laundering/terrorist financing.

Step 4: Do the circumstances relate to other predicate offences?

- Relate to the supply of firearms? If there is an immediate risk of harm ring the police on 999. Report non-emergency offences via 101. Use code XXFIREXX in any SAR relating to money laundering/terrorist financing.
- Links to organised immigration crime, modern slavery and human trafficking? If you suspect modern slavery is taking place call 999 in an emergency; 101 for non-emergencies. Alternatively contact the Modern Slavery Helpline – 0800 0121 700 for advice.

For further information about the work of the Modern Slavery Helpline go to www.modernslaveryhelpline.org

Report non-emergency organised immigration crime offences via 101 or via the Home Office

<https://www.gov.uk/report-immigration-crime>

- Use codes XXOICXX and/or XXMSHTXX in any SAR relating to money laundering/terrorist financing which involves organised immigration crime or modern slavery/human trafficking (see pages 16-17 and example 6).

- Links to the supply of illegal drugs? Report non-emergency offences via 101. Use code XXDRUXX in any SAR relating to money laundering/terrorist financing.

Step 5: Does it relate to a specialist initiative?

- Is it a counter-proliferation report? This relates to counter proliferation financing (counter-proliferation refers to diplomatic and military effort to combat the rapid increase of weapons). Use code XXPCPXX.

Step 6: Should I still use an NCA Alert reference?

SAR glossary codes are different to NCA Alert references. NCA Alerts are warnings produced by the NCA for the wider community in order to also reach beyond the SAR regulated sector. They can be used to inform a range of business, financial institutions and industry about serious organised crime and its effects, but can simultaneously be related to money laundering.

As such, an NCA Alert reference is specific to whichever Alert it pertains to. The Alert reference should be included in the body of your SAR 'Reason for Suspicion' text if money laundering is suspected.

SAR glossary codes are always prefixed and suffixed with 'XX'. If appropriate, the NCA Alert reference should be used in addition to the relevant SAR glossary code/s.

Step 7: Victim refunds

Are you intending on returning money to the victim of crime? The UKFIU view is that a DAML is unnecessary if the reporter's position is that they are returning money to a victim of crime and that they will not be carrying out activity which falls within Sections 327-8 of POCA. The submission of a DAML is therefore entirely the decision of the reporter.

If you have a suspicion of money laundering you are obliged to complete a SAR. Use code XXVICTXX for any cases where the reporter is submitting a SAR and considers that the purpose of the activity in question is to return money to a victim of crime. In any case where you suspect a criminal offence other than money laundering we advise you to report the activity to your local police force in the normal way.

Detail on glossary codes

XXGVTXX – requiring a defence under POCA ('consent') if the value of the suspected money laundering falls below a value of £3,000.

Use code XXGVTXX in any SAR relating to suspected money laundering where the activity value is £3,000 or less and you are unaware of any law enforcement or terrorist financing interest at the time of reporting.

Law enforcement interest does not have to be confirmed and could for example be an article that has appeared in the press or on social media as well as an awareness of a previous interest.

In addition, the victim code XXVICTXX should not be used concurrently with the XXGVTXX code. If the majority of funds are less than £3,000 and being returned to a victim of crime, please only use the victim code.

The UKFIU is committed to ensuring a risk-based and consistent approach to decision making and operates a triage system for DAMLs in date order. The introduction of this code is to assist with the triage processes and the early identification of key-risk areas and asset recovery opportunities.

XXPRFXX – Professional enablers: persons providing professional services or specialist knowledge that wittingly or unwittingly facilitates money laundering.

The laundering of criminal proceeds is sometimes reliant on access to the professional skills of, among others, lawyers, accountants, investment bankers and company formation agents. Professional enablers can also be highly organised criminals who develop products and services specifically to facilitate criminal enterprises. The use of professional enablers increases the complexity of money laundering activities, for example with the setting up of shell companies, trusts and other instruments providing anonymity.

The 2015 National Risk Assessment (NRA) describes professional enablers as those persons having the skills and/or knowledge to (wittingly or unwittingly) assist criminals in laundering the proceeds of crime.

Professionals can effectively act as private banks to individual clients. Client accounts offer criminals relative anonymity, the ability to obscure the origins and beneficiaries of criminal proceeds, and the perceived protection of legal privilege. The hallmarks of money laundering facilitated by professional service providers are very visible in trust and company formation, conveyancing and client account services environment.

The SAR should clearly state how a professional enabler was used. An explanation of why a subject is considered a professional enabler should be included in the SAR. See example 5, page 23.

XXTBMLXX – Trade-based money laundering (TBML)

The Financial Action Task Force (FATF) defines TBML as “the process of disguising the proceeds of crime and moving value through the use of trade transactions in an attempt to legitimise their illicit origins”.⁴ At its core, it relates to the use of the international trade system to obscure the origin of illicitly obtained funds.

The UK Joint Money Laundering Intelligence Taskforce (JMLIT) Trade Based Expert Group suggests that criminals will commonly utilise the following two defined techniques to achieve this aim: (1) the abuse of trade finance products and (2) the abuse of commercial client open account payments.

The SAR should explicitly state TBML in the intelligence provided. An explanation of what specific actions the subject has performed to warrant a suspicion of TBML should be included in the SAR.

Trade finance based money laundering – the abuse of trade finance products

Trade finance can, in its broadest interpretation, be described as being the finance and/or facilitation of the trade related payment by financial institutions relating to the movement of goods and services between two points, both domestically and cross border. The standard products used are Documentary Letters of Credit (LCs) and Documentary Bills for Collection (BCs). These standard products have trade related documents (invoices, transport document etc.) that are sent through financial institutions and are examined by the financial institutions for consistency with the terms of the trade transaction. Both these products are governed internationally by sets of rules and practice issued under the auspices of the International Chamber of Commerce. Approximately 10% of global trade is done in this way using trade finance products.

It is the discrepancies found in the verification checks of the trade related documents that often reveal strong indicators of criminal abuse of the trade activities.

Trade based money laundering – the abuse of commercial client Open Account payments

More commonly, world trade is conducted on ‘Open Account’ terms, whereby a ‘clean’ payment is made by the buyer of the goods or services direct to the seller, i.e. without presentation of the supporting trade documentation to the financial institution through which the payment is affected.

Open Account trade involves the movement of goods or services between two companies, either domestically or internationally, based on mutual trust. In Open Account transactions, unlike transactions where trade finance products are used, the bank is only aware of, and in receipt of, the instruction to effect payment and will not be aware of the underlying reason for the payment.

⁴ FATF, Trade Based Money Laundering, June 2006.

In a typical Open Account transaction, the seller and buyer contract for the delivery of stated goods from the seller to a place designated by the buyer. Banks involved in handling a payment related to an Open Account trade transaction generally do so in one (or both) of two capacities:

- a) the seller or buyer is their commercial customer
- b) the seller or buyer is the commercial customer of the bank's correspondent banking customer.

Banks handling trade-related payments will be able to perform the basic screening and monitoring related to payments transactions, but they will not, given the absence of availability of underlying transactional information, generally be in a position to otherwise discern suspicious activity.

Open payment methods can facilitate:

- using criminal cash/stockpile to fund a trade payment on behalf of a third party (goods do not become criminal property)
- paying for goods to move value directly across borders (goods become criminal value)
- paying for and moving goods through multiple companies/jurisdictions to:
 - disguise origin of funds
 - disguise criminal profits
 - provide reason for wealth/profit at destination
- manipulating the value of goods to move value across borders.

XXPROPXX – Purchase, sale and rental of real estate property

Purchasing, selling and renting real estate property as a method of money laundering provides the criminal with the opportunity to clean large amounts of illicit funds in a single transaction. It is likely that a significant proportion of criminals purchase or sell property through estate agents to launder the proceeds of crime. Other professionals, in particular solicitors and conveyancers, are likely to be wittingly or unwittingly involved.

Real estate property could include dwelling houses, apartments or flats, commercial buildings such as office or factory premises. It can also include investments in property developments that build dwelling or commercial premises.

XXVAXX – Virtual assets

The FATF defines virtual assets as digital representations of value that can be digitally traded or transferred and can be used for payment or investment purposes, including digital representations of value that function as a medium of exchange, a unit of account and/or a store of value.⁵

The UKFIU is using the term virtual assets in line with changes to the FATF Recommendations and the FATF Glossary that have added new definitions of “virtual assets” and “virtual asset service providers”. It is the more all-encompassing term since it includes virtual currencies, cryptocurrencies and digital currencies, but also covers the fact that anything can be tokenised as an asset and transferred on a blockchain or other digital peer-to-peer format.

Offering a secure, anonymous method of transferring value, with global reach, fast transaction times and low fees, virtual assets provide a powerful tool for criminals to move and store illicit funds. While they have the potential to spur financial innovation, efficiency and improve financial inclusion, they also create new opportunities for criminals and terrorists to launder their proceeds or finance their illicit activities.

The main criminal use of virtual assets is as a method of payment for illicit commodities and services, particularly on the dark web. On the whole, SARs on virtual assets link to fraud, dark web market places and suspicions surrounding unusual third party payments swiftly transferred to exchanges.

The role virtual assets are increasingly playing in money laundering, the investigative challenges associated with tracing illicit virtual asset transactions and the lack of regulation all continue to pose considerable risks. The scale of value laundered through virtual assets is unknown, and while it is assessed to be relatively low compared to other methods, it is expected to increase as new types of virtual assets continue to emerge and their use becomes more widespread.

Please note that the use of virtual assets/virtual currencies/cryptocurrencies/digital currencies is not illegal. This code relates to where there is a suspicion that virtual assets are being used to facilitate money laundering. The visibility of virtual assets in isolation should not automatically suggest that a SAR is required.

⁵ FATF, Regulation of virtual assets', 19 October 2018.

XXMLTMXX – Money laundering through markets

In May 2021 the UKFIU introduced a new SAR glossary code for money laundering through markets. MLTM in its simplest terms is money laundering taking place within capital markets in which shares, derivatives, bonds and other instruments are bought and sold.

The glossary code should not be used for market abuse such as insider trading or market manipulation unless specific reference is made to the subsequent laundering of the proceeds of these crimes.

MLTM activity has serious implications for the reputation of the UK as a global financial centre and, in addition, any firm found to be facilitating this type of money laundering could be liable to prosecution and/or damaging regulatory fines.

There is a collectively-held recognition across law enforcement, regulators and reporters that there are significant intelligence gaps relating to the scale of illicit finance generated in the UK and overseas but whose MLTM impacts the UK specifically.

COVID-19

In April 2020 the UKFIU implemented three new SAR glossary codes for reporters as a result of the increased threat posed by organised crime groups (OCGs) seeking to exploit the COVID-19 situation by means of fraud.

XXSATXX – HMRC Self-Assessment Tax Refund system

Whilst the Self-Assessment Tax Refund system was introduced by HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) prior to COVID-19 there is the potential for it to be exploited in the current climate. Use code XXSATXX in any SAR relating to suspected fraudulent use of the Self-Assessment Tax Refunds system. This may relate to identifying a change in pattern or behavior in accounts which could suggest fraudulent activity.

XXGPSXX – Government Priority Schemes

The government has introduced a number of schemes to offer support to businesses/individuals during the outbreak. Reporters should be alert to the potential for these schemes to be exploited by OCGs to commit fraud. Use code XXGPSXX in any SAR relating to suspected fraudulent use of Government Priority Schemes established as a result of COVID-19. This may relate to identifying a change in pattern or behavior in accounts which could suggest suspicious activity.

XXCVDXX – General code

The UKFIU is conducting specific analysis to inform partners of observations on what is being seen in reporting around COVID-19 and SARs. It would assist UKFIU analysis if reporters also used the code XXCVDXX in any SAR relating to suspicious activity connected to COVID-19.

- XXCVDXX should be used for all suspicious activity related to COVID-19.
- XXGPSXX or XXSATXX should ONLY be used if the suspicious activity relates to COVID-19.
- For any SAR relating to the suspected fraudulent use of the Government Priority Scheme, XXCVDXX should be used alongside the glossary code for this scheme e.g. XXCVDXX and XXGPSXX.
- For any SAR relating to any suspected fraudulent use of the HMRC Self-Assessment Tax Refund system, XXCVDXX should be used alongside the glossary code for this scheme e.g. XXCVDXX and XXSATXX

Glossary codes XXGPSXX and XXSATXX should not be used without the XXCVDXX code.

If the circumstances have no connection to COVID-19 but there are suspicions relating to the abuse of the Self-Assessment Tax Refund system or the Government Priority Schemes please consider using other relevant glossary codes e.g. the tax evasion codes (offshore or UK based) instead.

Predicate offences - economic crime

Fraud and tax offences are the largest known source of criminal proceeds from offending in the UK and involve a variety of crime types, victims, and perpetrators.

If you are reporting suspicions/knowledge of money laundering or terrorist financing concerning the below predicate offence please use the appropriate code from the table below in the SAR.

XXTEOSXX	Tax evasion offshore
XXTEUKXX	Tax evasion UK-based
XXF1XX	Proceeds from benefit fraud
XXF2XX	Excise evasion (duty on alcohol, tobacco, fuel etc.)
XXF3XX	Corporate tax evasion (tax evasion by businesses, corporations)
XXF4XX	Personal tax evasion (tax evasion by individuals e.g. income tax)
XXF5XX	VAT fraud e.g. carousel – Missing Trader Intra-Community (MTIC) fraud
XXF9XX	Frauds against private sector
XXD9XX	Bribery and corruption

Fraud reporting alongside this:

When you encounter a fraud (or attempted fraud) you will have to consider whether you want to report a crime alongside any responsibilities you have to report suspicions/knowledge of money laundering and terrorist financing to the NCA via a SAR. If the funds involved are not yet the proceeds of crime then it is not money laundering, but attempted fraud.

You cannot report a crime to the NCA.

There are a number of routes to report fraud-related offences if you wish to do so alongside reporting suspicions/knowledge of money laundering/terrorist financing to the NCA. The main route is via the national fraud and cyber-crime reporting centre, Action Fraud, which is run by City of London Police and works alongside the National Fraud Intelligence Bureau.

Action Fraud

- Report online via <https://www.actionfraud.police.uk> or call 0300 123 2040 (Mon – Fri, 0900 – 1800)
- If you are calling from abroad please call +44 (0)169 8264 700 or +44 (0)289 0169 853

However, if you wish to report business or personal tax fraud you should do so to HM Revenue & Customs via <https://www.gov.uk/topic/dealing-with-hmrc/tax-compliance>. Additionally, to report a benefit fraud, do so to the Department for Work & Pensions via <https://secure.dwp.gov.uk/benefitfraud/>

To report a fraud related to immigration crime (or any other immigration crime) do so to the Home Office via <https://www.gov.uk/report-immigration-crime>

Vulnerable persons

XXV2XX – Risk to vulnerable adults

If you think a vulnerable adult is at immediate risk call 999.

A vulnerable adult is any person aged 18 years or over who is or may be in need of community services by reason of mental, physical, or learning disability, age or illness AND is or may be unable to take care of themselves or unable to protect themselves against significant harm or exploitation.⁶ Risks to vulnerable adults include (but is not limited to) sexual and other physical abuse, financial abuse (including fraud), and they may be the victims of modern slavery.

If you are reporting suspicions/knowledge of money laundering or terrorist financing concerning a vulnerable person include the XXV2XX glossary code in any SAR (see example 3, page 21).

Alongside this:

If you also wish to report a fraud contact Action Fraud. For another non-emergency crime contact your local police force via 101. If you wish to report a vulnerable adult (or child) who is a victim of modern slavery ring 101 or the Modern Slavery Helpline telephone number 0800 0121 700 or seek advice at <https://www.modernslaveryhelpline.org/report>

XXV3XX – Risk to children – particularly including sexual abuse and exploitation

If you think a child is at immediate risk call 999.

A child is regarded as someone under 18 years of age. A child is always considered to be vulnerable, irrespective of the adult vulnerability criteria. A child may show mental, physical or learning disabilities or show illness, but this should be considered as an additional reporting factor reinforcing the child's inability to protect themselves against significant harm or exploitation. If you are reporting suspicions/knowledge of money laundering or terrorist financing relating to risk to children, include the code XXV3XX in any SAR (see example 2, page 20).

Alongside this:

If you wish to report the abuse of a child please follow the guidance at <https://www.gov.uk/report-child-abuse>

If you want to report suspicious behaviour online with or towards a child, use the Child Exploitation & Online Protection (CEOP) Centre online report form (<https://ceop.police.uk/report-abuse/>)
CEOP Centre enquiries: 0370 496 7622 (24/7 telephone)

If you want to report illegal content online report to the Internet Watch Foundation (<http://www.iwf.org.uk/>)

⁶ Association of Chief Police Officers (ACPO), Safeguarding and Investigating the Abuse of Vulnerable Adults.

XXD9XX – Bribery and corruption

The UK Anti-Corruption Strategy 2017-2022 states that “there is no universally accepted definition of corruption, but it is generally understood to involve the abuse of office and position to benefit a third party (an individual, business or other organisation), in return for payment or other reward. These features are captured in Transparency International’s definition: ‘the misuse of entrusted power for personal gain’”.

In view of the public profile of persons in a prominent public function it is likely that they would wish to avail themselves of a sophisticated smokescreen to conceal their corrupt illicit gains. Bribery and corruption therefore have significant links to money laundering.

Politically exposed persons (PEPs)

The 2015 NRA defined PEPs as:

International PEP: a term describing someone who has been entrusted with a prominent public function in a state other than the UK in the preceding year, or a relative or known associate of that person. A PEP generally presents a higher risk for potential involvement in bribery and corruption by virtue of their position and the influence that they may hold.

The 2017 NRA states that the UK remains a prime destination for foreign corrupt PEPs to invest in.

In February 2012 FATF defined PEPs as:

International (Foreign) PEPs: individuals who are or have been entrusted with prominent public functions by a foreign country, for example heads of state or heads of government, senior politicians, senior government, judicial or military officials, senior executives of state owned corporations, important political party officials.

Domestic PEPs: individuals who are or have been entrusted domestically with prominent public functions, for example heads of state or of government, senior politicians, senior government, judicial or military officials, senior executives of state owned corporations, important political party officials.

International PEP – glossary code to be used XXD7XX

Domestic PEPs – glossary code to be used XXD8XX

XXILTXX – Illegal lotteries

In simple terms a lottery is gambling that has three elements: payment to participate; prizes awarded; and prizes awarded by way of chance.

It is an offence under the Gambling Act 2005 to facilitate or promote a lottery unless the operator holds an operating licence. The profits from an illegal lottery may also be considered criminal property under POCA and therefore the operator may have committed a money laundering offence. It is not an offence to participate in an illegal lottery.

The Gambling Commission has seen that the majority of illegal lotteries are promoted via social media sites.

Action required

If you suspect money laundering is taking place as a result of illegal lotteries please briefly describe the activity taking place in your SAR.

If social media is being used to promote or facilitate the lottery please identify clearly which platform is being used e.g. Facebook, Instagram, Twitter etc.

To assist analysis, please include additional information such as: identified weblinks; whether the subject of the SAR is an organiser or user of the lottery; and turnover of the account for the last 12 months.

Do the accounts have a large turnover of small amounts that are inconsistent with the profile of the customer? Do larger payments make reference to terms like "prize" or "Congratulations! "? Are there multiple credits and debits to third parties who don't live close to the account holder?

Please confirm if there are any red flags visible e.g. type of prizes or words used like "Congrats", "prize", "thunderball", "tb", "entry", "raffle", "bonus ball", "bb", etc.

Please include details of what your next steps will be e.g. are you intending to exit the relationship, are you conducting further due diligence etc.?

Priority crime types

The National Strategic Assessment (NSA) of Serious and Organised Crime 2018 provides a single picture of the threat to the UK from serious and organised crime. The threats, which can be cross-cutting, are grouped into: Vulnerabilities – child sexual abuse and exploitation (CSAE); organised immigration crime (OIC); and modern slavery and human trafficking (MSHT). Prosperity – money laundering; fraud and other economic crime; bribery, international corruption and sanctions evasion; and cyber crime. Commodities – firearms and drugs.

Some of the priority crime types are featured in their own sections in this glossary codes document.

If you think there is an immediate urgent risk to public safety call 999.

XXFIREXX – Firearms

The NSA illustrates that handguns and shotguns are the most commonly used criminal firearms in the UK, with automatic weapons on the rise, albeit from a low level. If you are reporting suspicions/knowledge of money laundering or terrorist financing relating to firearm criminality include the code XXFIREXX in any SAR.

XXDRUXX – Illegal supply of drugs

The NSA illustrates that demand for all common drug types remains high in the UK. It is likely that the UK drugs market and the associated crime will continue to grow and cause increased harm to the UK. If you are reporting suspicions/knowledge of money laundering or terrorist financing relating to drugs include the code XXDRUXX in any SAR.

XXOICXX – Organised immigration crime

The NSA identifies the risks of serious and organised criminals enabling migrants to enter the UK clandestinely. The unlawful activities of such criminal networks to avoid UK border controls are known as organised immigration crime.

XXMSHTXX – Modern slavery/human trafficking

The term 'modern slavery' includes the offences of human trafficking, forced labour and debt bondage.

Human trafficking – involves transporting, recruiting or harbouring people for the purpose of exploitation, using violence, threats or coercion.

Forced labour – any work or services which people are forced to do against their will normally under the threat of some form of punishment.

Debt bondage – when people borrow money they cannot repay and are required to work to pay off the debt, then losing control over the conditions of both their employment and the debt.

A victim of MSHT should always be considered to be a vulnerable person so in all MSHT-related SARs it is also normal to additionally include the vulnerable person code (for adults XXV2XX, for child victims [under 18] XXV3XX).

The difference between OIC and MSHT

It is possible for OIC to not involve modern slavery where the intention is purely to enter the UK clandestinely and the crime committed is only against the state.

It is also possible for modern slavery not to involve OIC where the victims are legally in the UK but are then transported for the purpose of exploitation. Here the crime is against the person.

If you are reporting suspicion/knowledge of money laundering or terrorist financing with a belief that the circumstances involve clandestine entry into the UK, and is not MSHT, then you should use XXOICXX.

If you are reporting suspicion/knowledge of money laundering or terrorist financing with a belief that the circumstances involve MSHT and not clandestine entry to the UK then you should use XXMSHTXX e.g. the MSHT victims seem to be legally in the UK.

Use of both codes XXOICXX and XXMSHTXX

The NSA states that serious organised crime threats such as OIC and MSHT are increasingly interlinked. There are significant overlaps between MSHT and OIC, with offenders often moving seamlessly between both of these crime threats. Consequently OIC and MSHT SARs are often connected so it is acceptable to use both codes together (see example 6, page 23 on the use of multiple codes).

Alongside using these codes in SARs

If you also wish to report a non-emergency crime relating to firearms, OIC, MSHT or drugs contact your local police force via 101.

Glossary code example 1 – requesting a defence from the NCA

What is your Reason for Suspicion/Knowledge?

Insert glossary code(s) here at the start of reason for suspicion.

Example 1: code and content – requesting a defence from the NCA ('consent' SAR)

“XXS99XX This SAR seeks a defence to a money laundering offence in relation to our suspicion of money laundering. The circumstances are...”

Good practice tips – always:

- identify as clearly as possible the suspected benefit from criminal conduct (the 'criminal property') including, where possible, the amount of benefit
- identify the reason(s) for suspecting that property is criminal property
- identify the proposed prohibited act/s you seek to undertake involving the criminal property
- identify the other party/parties involved in dealing with the criminal property, including their dates of birth (DOB) and addresses where appropriate (such information should be held routinely by reporters in the regulated sector to comply with the requirements of the Money Laundering Regulations)

For further guidance relating to requests for a defence to a money laundering offence please refer to the document 'Requesting a defence from the NCA', published on the NCA website www.nationalcrimeagency.gov.uk

Example 2: code and content – risk to children (person under 18 years of age)

“XXV3XX This SAR concerns a child we believe is being exploited. The circumstances are that the person is 15 years old”

Good practice tips – always :

- describe fully the reasons for suspicion in relation to the money laundering. As a basic guide, wherever you can, try to answer the following six basic questions to make the SAR as useful as possible: Who? What? Where? When? Why? How?
- describe fully all personal information concerning the child – full name, DOB, address and post code, nationality.
- describe if law enforcement are already aware of the circumstances, in particular the exploitation of the child. Confirm if contact has been made with CEOP (CEOP ref number) (officer contacted).
- describe fully if any additional vulnerabilities exist e.g. if the child is unable to properly protect him/herself against exploitation due to what appears to be mental, physical or learning disability, or illness related condition.
